Bank of America Essay and Speech Contest

The Bank of America Essay/Speech Contest is for 4th, 5th and 6th grade students. Each participating school may nominate one essay at each grade (4th, 5th, 6th). There are no regional level contests.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR STUDENTS

2024-2025 Topic: "If You Could Spend Ten Days In Any City In The World, Where Would You Travel To And Why?"

Write a research-based, informational essay/speech that addresses this topic, based on your research and your own experience. An informational essay/speech is written to inform the audience about the writer's understanding of the topic based on personal knowledge and research completed. The structure of the informational essay is first to frame the central issue, then include facts and details for focus using information from your own experience and a variety of sources. Be sure to cite, in the context of the essay/speech (see examples below), at least three different sources you used in your research. Sources may include personal interviews, articles, websites, reference and other books. Please be careful when choosing Internet resources. For this topic, you might research a variety of topics in current events such as historical figures that made a difference. Essays may be typed or handwritten in black or blue ink on binder paper.

Essays/speeches do not require formal footnotes and/or bibliographies, but students must cite at least three different sources in the body of the essay/speech. This should be done in narrative form, e.g., "The Encyclopedia Britannica, 2009 edition, lists..." "On October 4, 2006, an NBC newscaster noted..." or "John Jones, in his article 'Global Warming' stated..."

INSTRUCTIONS FOR TEACHERS:

The essay/speech contest is an opportunity for students to practice and perfect their language arts skills in the areas of research, expository writing, and public speaking. Essays and speeches should demonstrate proficiency of the CA Common Core State Standards for writing and presenting informational/explanatory reports. Writing Standard 2, for each grade level, addresses writing informative/explanatory texts to examine a topic and convey ideas and information clearly. Writing standards 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 also support the development of an informative/explanatory essay/speech. Speaking and Listening Standards 4 and 6 are addressed by the presentation of this knowledge. If essays/speeches are presented in classrooms, Speaking and Listening standards 2 and 3 may be addressed as audience members evaluate and summarize information presented. For information regarding these standards refer to the Common Core State Standards for English/Language Arts, History/Social Studies and Science and Technical Subjects found at www.cde.ca.gov/re/cc/.

Please be sure the student reads and follows the guidelines for this essay/speech contest.
